II. COMPOSITION AND MEMBERSHIP

2.01 Board Composition

- a. The Board shall be composed of eleven (11) members who shall collectively possess the necessary knowledge, skills, and experience relevant to the Corporation’s business and required to properly perform their duties and responsibilities.

The Board shall be composed of a mix of competent directors who, as much as practicable, shall come from diverse backgrounds, to enable each member to have a unique perspective and provide valuable and independent judgment and insight in the formulation of sound corporate strategies and policies.
- c. At least twenty percent (20%) of the members of the Board, but in no case less than two (2) members, shall be independent directors.
- d. A combination of executive and non-executive directors (which include independent directors) may compose the members of the Board to ensure that no Director or group of directors shall dominate the decision-making process.
- e. The non-executive directors should possess such qualifications and stature that would enable them to effectively participate in the deliberations of the Board.
- f. To help secure independent judgment of corporate affairs, it is recommended that non-executive directors compose the majority of the Board. In case the shareholders choose to elect a majority of executive directors in the Board, however, the Board shall put into place mechanisms to ensure proper checks and balances and the protection of the Corporation’s best interests.

2.02 Multiple Board Seats

- a. To ensure that they have sufficient time to fully prepare for meetings, challenge Management's proposals and views, and oversee the long-term strategy of the Company, directors may only concurrently serve as directors to a maximum of five (5) Philippine publicly listed companies.
- b. The Board shall consider the adoption of guidelines on the number of directorships that its members can hold in other corporations, whether or not publicly listed. The optimum number shall take into consideration the capacity of a director to diligently and efficiently perform his duties and responsibilities.
- c. The above notwithstanding, a director should notify the Board before accepting a directorship in another company.

2.03 The Chairperson and Chief Executive Officer

- a. The roles of the Chairperson and Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") should, as much as practicable, be separate to foster an appropriate balance of power, increased accountability, and better capacity for independent decision-making by the Board. A clear delineation of functions should be made between the Chairperson and CEO upon their election.
- b. If the positions of Chairperson and CEO are unified, the proper checks and balances should be laid down to ensure that the Board gets the benefit of independent views and perspectives.

2.04 Term Limits

- a. As a general rule, an independent director should serve in such capacity for a maximum cumulative term of nine (9) years. After which, the independent director should be perpetually barred from re-election as such, but may continue to qualify for nomination and election as a non-independent director.
